Energy Conservation Cell

Utilizing less energy is a choice and a practice known as energy conservation. Energy saving measures include turning off the lights when leaving a room, disconnecting appliances when not in use, and choosing to walk rather than drive.

Gaining more control over their energy cost and lowering the pressure on the planet's natural resources are the two main motivations for energy conservation.

All citizens have a moral obligation to utilize energy wisely in their daily lives, to prevent any waste, and to raise awareness of the value of energy conservation for a sustainable present and future. Our college's Energy Conservation Cell seeks to raise awareness of the prudent and economical use of energy while minimizing energy waste for a better future

Objectives of Energy Conservation Cell

- The Cell's mission is to develop methods and develop solutions that enable more efficient and non-intrusive usage of energy.
- The Cell wants to investigate more effective ways to employ renewable and clean energy sources.
- To educate children about environmental preservation and energy conservation.
- To cultivate in pupils an attitude that would make them ambassadors for spreading awareness of energy conservation.
